

A Message to Our Valued Clients and Business Partners on Integral's Response to COVID-19

As all of us ply the uncharted waters of the unfolding COVID-19 situation, we want you to know that Integral's operations are fully up and running. Every day, we are making the necessary adaptations to ensure that our personnel and services will continue to be available to you. Most of our staff are now working remotely, and we are relying more than ever on our robust technological systems to stay connected with our clients, other business partners, and one another.

As with organizations everywhere, we have implemented a number of safeguards to put the health and safety of our staff, clients, vendors, and visitors first, while continuing to operate and provide the level of service, quality, and responsiveness that we always strive to make our hallmark. Among other things, this means we are restricting all non-essential business travel, rescheduling face-to-face meetings as teleconferences and video conferences, and responding in real time to local, state, and national health advisories across all of our locations.

With each and every step, Integral will be guided by our deep commitment to the well-being and success of our staff, clients, and communities. Most of all, we want you to know we are here for you, and please do not hesitate to reach out if there is anything we can do to help you and your organization during this period of unprecedented challenge.

Bill Locke
President

Larry Marx
Chairman

About Us

Science and engineering firm Integral Consulting Inc. delivers strategies and insights that help our clients move forward in an evolving world.

Visit us at www.integral-corp.com

